

Noe Being Sued For $250,000 By Orleans Station

NEW ORLEANS, June 10 (AP)—Rival New Orleans radio stations today filed slander suits in Civil District Court against each other in a controversy over how many people took part in a treasure hunt by one of them.

The Mid-Continent Broadcasting Co., owners of station WTTX, filed a $250,000 suit against owner James A. Noe and program director Bill Stewart of station WNOE.

The suit contends that Stewart damaged the station's reputation for accuracy and honesty by referring to its treasure hunt as "one of the greatest hoaxes ever perpetrated upon the people of New Orleans" and "a colossal fraud" which cost 20,000 people and 7,500 automobiles.

Stewart earlier filed a $50,000 suit against WTTX, charging it "falsely and maliciously" accused him of distorting the facts and thereby damaging his reputation as a reporter.

Split Develops Between PHS And Polio Foundation

Scheele Says Vaccine Now Safe; Scientists To Conduct Continuous Tests In Maker's Labs

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele said today the polio vaccine program "might have come close to the line of safety" in the past but he is quite sure about safety now and "we can go forward."

He spoke at a news conference after new evidence cropped out of strained relations between two agencies battling polio: the Public Health Service and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

There were hints, too, of differences between the Health Service, headed by Scheele and Dr. Jonas E. Salk, vaccine inventor.

Rosal O'Connor, president of the polio foundation, was critical of a long-awaited voluminous "white paper" put out by the Health Service detailing difficulties in the vaccine program.

O'Connor indicated there is still more to be told. He said the report, released early today, gave only the Health Service's version. He added:

"When the public has heard of Dr. Jonas E. Salk's version, it will be able to form an intelligent conclusion as to what has actually been transpiring."

Asked about this, Scheele said he suspects O'Connor would have liked for the white paper to have reported more fully on the cause of suspected defects in a few lots of vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. The report said the Health Service has been unable to find the cause.

Scheele added this information simply "is not ready."

"As to what he means by the Salk version and this version," Scheele commented, "You will have to ask him or Dr. Salk."

In all today's developments there was no suggestion when the vaccine program will be resumed on a full-scale basis.

1. Scheele said the decision to continue the mass vaccination program among first and second grade school children, carried out by the polio foundation, was based on a "preponderance of opinion" among informed scientists that the vaccine can be made safely, under new production and testing standards.

This comment came in response to questions about the views of Dr. W. McJ. Hammon of the University of Pittsburgh, one member of the 15-man government advisory committee on the vaccine.

Hammon said he feels the revised safety standards "did not go far enough to insure an adequate margin of safety."

2. Dr. James A. Shannon, an associate director of the National Institutes of Health, disclosed that one lot of vaccine made by Wyeth Laboratories, Marietta, Pa., is undergoing the same intensive studies as the suspect lots of Cutter vaccine.

Shannon said as a rough estimate about 100,000 shots from this lot had been used in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Ohio. He said the manufacturer has withdrawn unused portions, although there was not enough evidence to say the vaccine was suspect.

The white paper said three cases of polio after injection of the Wyeth vaccine lot "again raised the question of coincidence versus association with vaccination; paralysis beginning in the infant extremity, and a 10-to-14 day interval between injection and paralysis." That is the most frequent interval between exposure to polio and the outbreak of symptoms.

3. Six young government scientists have been assigned to "much closer contact" with each of the six vaccine manufacturers. The scientists will be at the plants about one-fourth of the production time. Their job will be to get across to the manufacturers results of detailed scientific discussions here which can't be transmitted in written reports. And they will be "in day-to-day close contact to observe the entire plant operations and procedures."

4. Scheele said he is confident the Indian government will permit continued export of vaccines to this country for use in production of vaccine. India so far has given consent only for a 60-day period.

Scheele said with the new revisions and increased sensitivity in testing, scientists "can pick up faulty lots in the future."

Health officials conceded that "in retrospect" they should have required more detailed information from manufacturers before the original clearance of vaccine, particularly information on lots found faulty by manufacturers and never presented for government clearance.

Shannon said the special advisory committee on vaccine clearance met Wednesday but found there were no lots awaiting release on which complete information was available.

GM Workers End Last Of Wildcat Strikes On Order

DETROIT, June 10 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union snuffed out the last of a series of wildcat strikes which hampered negotiations with General Motors Friday and launched a final drive to reach a contract settlement by the Sunday midnight deadline.

Both sides met to talk in negotiating sessions Friday.

The end of the troublesome walkouts which added more than 70,000 General Motors and Ford workers earlier in the week came Friday morning when 5,000 employees at GM's South Gate, Calif., Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac plant went back to work.

But the end didn't come soon enough to prevent a parts shortage which forced General Motors to shut down 20 plants employing another 60,000 workers.

GM said the plants, starting Friday, would be closed until at least Monday so the supply of parts could catch up with assembly operations.

CIO President Walter Reuther said the wildcat walkouts had slowed the pace of negotiations. He said both company and union officials had to take time out from the talks to cope with the strike problem.

The labor peace pact was the way for negotiations to knock the down on a new GM offer, expected to be GM's answer to Ford Motor Co. "guaranteed seniority annual wage" contract which was signed Wednesday.

GM's 300,000 UAW members would be free to strike at midnight Sunday if no agreement is reached by then. So would another 35,000 General Motors employees who belong to the CIO electrical workers' union.

School Official In Livingston Is Jailed On Charge

LIVINGSTON, La., June 10 (AP)—School Supt. Watson Bankston of Livingston Parish today was charged with concealing school records.

Bankston was arrested here last night on a warrant sworn out by Edmon A. Jones, of Denham Springs. He is free under $250 bond.

Jones charged Bankston hindered "the inspection of certain records of Livingston Parish school board, which records are under his custody and control."

The warrant said Bankston refused to permit Jones to inspect the records, including 27 checks District Judge Fannie J. Birch set June 17 for a hearing on an attempt by Jones' attorneys to force Bankston to show Jones the records. Jones contends Bankston is violating the public records act.

The charges came on the heels of a hot fight between Bankston and William Abbott, former school board president. Abbott had accused Bankston of improper procedure in letting school construction contracts.

Bankston contended they were mere "shortcuts" designed to speed the work. Abbott was named as incident at the next board meeting.

Twister Strikes Eglin Air Base

PENSACOLA, Fla., June 10 (AP)—A small tornado struck Eglin Air Force Base today as a vicious line squall swept the northwest Florida Gulf coast. No fatalities were reported.

The squall line accompanied by heavy rain and gusts of wind up to 30 miles an hour struck Pensacola in early afternoon. It ripped about two-thirds of the roof off Pensacola's new $600,000 auditorium and caused other damage in the city.

Pair Charged In Armed Robbery Plead Not Guilty

Two Monroe men, Billy Deal and Charles Ray Russell, charged with armed robbery, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge David I. Garrett yesterday in Fourth District Court, but no trial date was set.

The pair are presently free on bond of $1,500 each. Russell, accompanied by his attorney surrendered to the Ouachita parish sheriff department March 17, three days after the holdup on Polk street.

Rebut To Political Cowardice

President Eisenhower at his press conference Wednesday issued an urgent call to Congress and the American people for action in his long-delayed program to strengthen the American military reserves.

His program could be military leaders, churchmen, war veterans, industrialists, labor spokesmen, and thousands of other Americans, is stymied because of a cowardly, unrepresentative opposition. Offered by Rep. Powell, a New York Republican, the bill from the Harlem district of New York City.

The House passed the bill that has passed in "every" one of the 48 states, in the whole field of racial relations.

It is a shame and an outrage that this old and threadbare device of injecting a racial issue into a measure of such magnitude and vital import as the President's reserve training program should be allowed to succeed.

The legislation represents the fruits of a long struggle in America between the advocates of universal military training and of a "citizen" army organized fundamentally on a volunteer basis. It has the endorsement of eminent military authorities, many of them retired generals and admirals in a position to speak their minds freely, and of noted educational and church authorities, who have fought consistently against a universal military training program.

It seems to offer the maximum security attainable in a nation that has always feared great standing armies, and at a minimum cost, and the least possible disruption of the lives of our young men. Yet a New York Democrat has been able to sabotage the entire program by the simple device of injecting a racial issue, and the supine and fearful House of Representatives, shirking its responsibility to vote the program up or down on its merits, meekly acquiesces in this quibbling of the bill.

The Morning World repeats what it said May 23—that the refusal of the House to vote this bill up or down on its merits is a monumental example of political cowardice.

Powerful left-wing forces, working above board and underground, are opposing the President's program, which would insure new strength for America—new and greater protection.

Every citizen and organization working for the good of the nation should take an interest in this vitally important issue, and let House members know how the country feels.

Fluoridation Controversy

An issue provoking wide interest and divergent opinions is increasingly making its way into debates in American towns and cities. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, the subject of water fluoridation is plaguing city fathers with headaches which threaten to overshadow even those caused by the traffic congestion problem.

There are presently 20.5 million Americans drinking water containing fluorine, but this figure may not remain constant very long. In municipalities where there is fluoridation, critics are fighting desperately to outlaw it, and where there is no fluoridation, they are working feverishly to sell the idea as a health measure.

Both sides have scored successes in the impartialness of the issue, to which this community, from the water getting done.

Proponents of fluoridation are convinced that the problem, or at least a portion of it, is of 8,000 inhabitants are raising the issue. In New York City, with a population of 7,500,000, the issue is being raised by the city fathers.

THESE DAYS

Harry Dexter White

The Henry Morgenthau, Jr., diaries will undoubtedly prove to be a gold mine of information for the historian of the future, for the secretary of the treasury recorded everything, every conference, every telephone conversation. How it was done, I do not know. Morgenthau testified before the Eastland committee as follows:

"Mr. Morgenthau. The diary is, then, an actual verbatim transcript, in large part, of what took place in your office while you were secretary of the treasury?"

"Mr. Morgenthau. Almost everything that took place was transcribed."

"Mr. Morgenthau. I don't believe that I would say everything to the best of my knowledge."

"Mr. Morgenthau. And then important documents, letters, and memoranda that came along were also placed in the diary, is that right?"

"Mr. Morgenthau. Everything, unless it was of a highly personal nature between the President and myself."

The material has remained unaltered for 11 months. Investigators of the Eastland committee have been reading the hundreds of volumes of the Morgenthau diaries and have brought together certain material concerning Harry Dexter White, which does stir the historic mind to a note on the queer operations of the New Deal.

Morgenthau did not know White when he came into the Treasury in the summer of 1933. There is no known explanation White's employment which may have been routine. However, on April 22, 1935, there is a telephone conversation between Morgenthau and Under Secretary William Phillips of the State Department, which gives the impression that White, who was at the Treasury, was getting into the hair of the diplomats and they needed a rectification of his status.

By April 23, 1938, Harry Dexter White had become a big shot in the Treasury and was included in the "9:30 group," which represented the top personnel of the Treasury who met with Morgenthau every morning to discuss the day's work. Morgenthau's announcement on that occasion was:

"I thought you people would be interested to know that I've invited Harry White to become a regular member of the 9:30 staff."

Nobody objected. White is immediately found to be engaged in extremely important work, particularly influencing the most important "Executive Committee on Commercial Policy," which consisted of:

"State: Mr. Grady, chairman, Mr. Feis, Mr. Hawkins, Mr. Belmont, Mr. Saugstad, Mr. Alger Hiss, Mr. Carr, Treasury; Mr. Glasser, Agriculture; Mr. Wheeler, Commerce; Mr. Rawls, Mr. Domagala, Mr. Wood, Labor; Mr. Lubin, Tariff Commission; Mr. Stevens, Mr. Ryder, Mr. Smith, Maritime Commission; Mr. Truitt, Army and Navy Munitions Board; Major Sadler, Lieutenant Lowrie."

On December 8, 1941, according to Book 470 of the diaries, the day the United States went to war with Japan, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., announced that he was going to give Harry Dexter White the status of an assistant secretary, in charge of all the foreign relations of the Treasury. None of the top personnel of the Treasury objected, with the exception of H. Merle Cochran, who had been borrowed from the State Department and who quit the Treasury on account of White's appointment. Cochran is now deputy managing director of the International Monetary Fund. This is what Morgenthau explained to his associates:

"... in order to have the least friction, as far as I am concerned, and to make life easier for me and at the same time if it is easier for me it's better for the Treasury, I want to give Harry White the status of an assistant secretary. I can't make him an assistant secretary, I want to give him the status just as though he were and he will be in charge of all foreign affairs for me. See?"

One of the most significant facts in this situation is that White was placed in charge of the China policy of the Treasury which involved operations that wrecked the currency of that country and produced an inflation that ended in a complete collapse of its economy, weakening the position of the government and leading to the Communist Revolution.

It will be interesting to see what other revelations come out of the Morgenthau diaries through the Eastland committee.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

The Teacher

I read in the newspaper that there is a shortage of teachers in the junior high school, and in order to meet it we are lowering the standard requirements of eligibility for a license to teach in those schools.

This is a very serious action to take, and, in my opinion, about the worst thing that could happen to the junior high schools are at a critical stage of their development. They are neither children nor adolescents. They are moody, unpredictable, overflowing with energy and the excitement of discovering the world, "so new and all." If ever children need wise leadership, knowing guidance, skilled teachers, it is these in the junior high school.

The right kind of teacher for these children must be experienced in child nature and its way of growth. This means he has studied under wise teachers, has taught under skilled supervision, has dedicated himself to the upbringing of the pre-adolescent child—and is willing to suffer his vicarious, willing to teach patiently, proud, push and lead him to find his way to open up his still-coiled talents.

This teacher should be a master; an amateur will not do. He must be able to lead, to guide, to direct, and of extreme importance, to humanity in general and to each pupil under his care. But he must not expect to be rich in money. Teachers never do expect this, but they are richly rewarded by the affection that is showered upon them for these they help toward happiness and success.

The shortage of teachers is not caused by poor pay as much as by the lack of appreciation by the community, the politicians who control the funds the administrators of the schools. Always, the teacher's need is the last and least consideration whether it is salary, accommodations in the school building, respect of personal rights and dignity. The further away the school employee is in contact with the children and the students, the more respect, consideration and money is given him. Yet the teacher is the most important person in the whole school system from the Superintendent on.

This situation has grown worse these past few years. The classroom teachers have been reduced to a slavish following of "Directives" issued from offices far from the classroom. "Directives" is an Un-American word and ought never to have been used in relation to American teachers. The authority and the dignity of the teacher has been slowly undermined by such disregard of his position. Money never will pay for this. A bit of thought on this might help the shortage.

Paul Harvey--News

Mostly For June Graduates

All right, next generation, here is your world! Take it!

It's not perfect. We haven't even been able yet to give you a faucet that won't drip. But here it is.

Our generation was able to help you to frozen French fries. We developed radar. Wonder drugs at aspirin prices. Shaving cream in a pressurized can.

But still much remains unfinished. We pioneered the stratosphere. To you we leave the conquest of space.

Maybe we've spent so much of our effort cultivating our intellects that we neglected to discipline our emotions. So lust and lawlessness have increased faster than they should.

Maybe that's your challenge. That ... and space ... and the faucet.

There are clouds on the international horizon which we did not dispel. But they have been there to test the character of each generation.

You see ... This earthly while ... is a shakedown cruise. An eternity is being prepared somewhere. And we have to prove here ... that we deserve to be there.

That's why it never has been all fun for anyone.

This is where we separate the men from the boys. Each individual ... being tested ... to determine whether he deserves to populate some more perfect place.

If there were perpetual sunshine there would be no victory.

If my generation conceivably could have rolled out for you a bright plush carpet on which you might walk off into a problem-free future, it would not have been to your best interests for us to do so. You deserve a chance at this test, too.

So don't be taken in by the recent fad—drug called "Security." We have never been promised, here or hereafter, a life of all ease. The good Lord said even in his kingdom we shall "build houses and inhabit them, plant vineyards and eat the fruit thereof."

Don't listen to the siren song of those who bait you with promises of idleness.

That's not heaven they're talking about; that's the other place. No, it's not going to be all fun. The mortgaged freedom which you will have to hang onto with both hands.

But if it's worth fighting for, it's worth working at.

And if you will, with all that is in you, preserve this last great, green and precious place on each globe.

Conceivably you might, collectively, provide the example for which peoples all over the world are watching.

Another star ... to steer by. And, at the same time, you, individually, will have proved your self worthy of a greater citizenship.

See you see.

It's to your eternal advantage that the task is not finished. Besides, it couldn't be any fun. Be glad so much is left undone. Don't fret because we haven't a dropless faucet yet.

See you see.

Parents should guard their children against fear. Fear of the dark and other fears make life miserable for small children. Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Bernice wonders whether to try to keep her baby, that will be born out of wedlock, or to let it be adopted. If you employ the moral yardstick mentioned below, this problem can be solved very quickly and easily. These cases make excellent teaching material for Sunday school classes, for they bring morality down to earth.

Case O-534: Bernice G., aged 19.

is the unloving expert mother whom we described yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, what should I do when the baby arrives," she asked. Again, I urge you to employ the universal moral yardstick, which reads:

That which does the most good for the most people for the longest period of time, is moral.

Unwed girls who are expecting babies, usually have two alternatives. They can try to keep their babies, especially if they still are living at home and their parents will consent.

Or, they can have the baby placed in a cultured, religious home where two childless folks are eager to adopt a youngster.

"But it kills me to think about giving up my baby!" thousands of such mothers have protested through their tears after the baby has come.

But that is one of the penalties for unwise action. And if they will apply the moral yardstick mentioned above, they will find that more happiness is brought to more people for the longest period of time by letting the baby be adopted.

Moral Arithmetic. Just weigh the evidence pro and con, and see if you don't agree. If Bernice lets her baby be adopted, what happens? Well, the baby will be happy, for it will start out in life with legal, respectable parents to look after it. Its foster parents will also be happier to have a baby of their own.

And Bernice, while possibly less happy at the start, in the long run will often be actually happier, for she can then go on to college and probably marry wisely.

On the other hand, if she keeps the baby, it will be more unhappy, for it will grow up fatherless and with some sort of a social stigma attaching to it.

Wingless Plane Has Sad Debut In First Test

EMPORIA, Va., June 10 (AP)—A shimmying nose wheel disrupted plans for the initial flight of a wingless airplane today but failed to shake the faith of its amateur inventor that the revolutionary gadget will fly.

For Charles Pritchard, an undaunted railroad gang foreman, it simply meant a delay of "10 days or two weeks" while he fixed the shake in the front wheel of the ship's tricycle landing gear.

"I'm still convinced," he said, "that my ship will fly."

A crowd of nearly 1,500 gathered at Emporia airport early today to watch as the strange-looking, octagonal ship made its first attempt to leave the ground.

Built by Pritchard of aluminum, the 800-pound wingless craft has six fins, or baffles, several inches high, which extend almost the entire length of the 21-foot fuselage.

The fins are supposed to keep air "flowing in proper channels over the hull of the ship from nose to stern, creating lift on the entire surface of the ship," Pritchard says.

But in today's first test everything seemed to go wrong.

Pritchard lost steering control shortly after he began his fourth taxi run down the airport's 4,000-foot runway and swerved off the concrete strip into a field.

The ship was pulled back on to the runway by Pritchard's friends.

After one more unsuccessful test run, the craft was placed on a truck and trundled back to Kluge's Metal Shop here where Pritchard built the ship in his spare time.

P. R. Stelmans, Richmond, Va., aviation safety agent for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, said he instructed Pritchard to fly no higher than 10 feet above the field because Pritchard had no parachute.

Gruenther Says Size Is Simply Point Of View

WASHINGTON, June 10—UP—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther explained Friday that size is all a matter of perspective.

He told a National Press Club lunch a story to illustrate this. It involved Russia's bulky Communist party secretary, Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Seems Khrushchev, before his recent trip to Yugoslavia, wanted a new suit made. He took a bolt of cloth to his Moscow tailor and ordered him to make a three-piece suit.

"Sorry, Comrade Khrushchev," the tailor replied, "but there isn't enough cloth for a three-piece suit. I'll have to omit the vest."

Khrushchev, unwilling to give up, hauled the cloth with him to Belgrade where he summoned a Yugoslav tailor to his hotel suite. The tailor agreed to make a three-piece suit.

"Wonderful," said Khrushchev. But he asked the tailor how he could do this when the Moscow tailor couldn't.

"It's not so difficult," replied the Yugoslav. "You see, you are a bigger man in Moscow than you are in Belgrade."

Ike Names White Commander Of Far East Forces

WASHINGTON, June 10—UP—President Eisenhower Friday named Lt. Gen. Isaac Davis White to be commanding general of Army forces in the Far East and of the Eighth Army.

Mr. Eisenhower also nominated White for promotion to four star rank. White is now commanding general of the Fourth Army with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

White's new assignment is part of a general shift brought about by the promotion of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be Army chief of staff, succeeding retiring Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer is being moved up from command of the Eighth Army post to succeed Taylor as commander of the entire Far East command and United Nations command.

Engine Strikes Car, Driver Escapes Injury

FERRIDAY, June 10 (Special)—An engine of the Louisiana Midland railroad at Wildsville struck a car driven by Joseph D. Boone, of Ferriday.

Boone, who was going east at a train crossing where State Highway 18 and U. S. 84 converge, was executing a turn into 18.

According to State Trooper Charles P. James, who investigated the accident, Boone said he heard the train whistle, but believed it to be a truck he was watching on Highway 84.

He told troopers that he pulled onto the track in the path of the oncoming train.

The entire right side of his car was knocked off and the chassis was knocked approximately sixty feet off the track into a ditch. The car did not turn over.

Boone was taken to the Passman Clinic in Jonesville and was treated for abrasions and lacerations of the face. He sustained no broken bones.

Supreme Court Refuses To Stay Workers' Terms

NEW ORLEANS, June 10 (AP)—The Louisiana Supreme Court refused today to stay the sentences of seven men charged in connection with violence at Godechaux Sugars, Inc., refinery at Reserve.

Judge L. Robert Rivard sentenced each of the men to serve 60 days in jail and pay fines of $150 for contempt of court by violating an order restraining violence during a strike at the refinery.

In a unanimous opinion, the Supreme Court said "Writ refused. No error in ruling complained of."

The seven, all of Reserve, are Prentice Tamplin, Wallace Gauthier, Leon Scioneaux, Edward Cambre, Adam Duhe, Robert Michel and Dewey Weber.

They were convicted in connection with the beating of Flagile Schexnayder, a refinery employee last month after the temporary restraining order prohibiting violence had been issued.

One ferry passenger was injured seriously enough to require hospitalization. Neither vessel was damaged severely and both continued on their way after the incident.

The girls, from the Midland, Tex., area, sailed aboard the Italian liner Andrea Doria. They will visit Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, France and England.

Traxler To Be Paroled Today In Oklahoma

MCALISTER, Okla., June 10—UP—Prison gates will open at 9 a. m. Saturday for Roy (Pete) Traxler, 47, a widely-feared bandit of the 1930s. The warden of the state prison here described the Texan as an "excellent prisoner."

Traxler plans to return to work for a Denton, Tex., plumbing firm which had employed him for eight years before he was sent to the Oklahoma penitentiary in March, 1953. Warden H. C. McLeod said.

Traxler escaped from the Texas penitentiary in the mid-30s and began a 13-day "reign of terror" in Texas and Oklahoma. He stole a car from Frank Trimmer of Bryan county, Okla., but Trimmer saw him and Traxler was recaptured.

Later Traxler gained his freedom in Texas through legal action. In 1946 he was found working in Denton and returned to Bryan county to stand trial. He was sent to the Oklahoma prison in 1953.

Oklahoma Gov. Raymond Gary this week approved a recommendation of the Pardon and Parole Board, and Traxler was given credit for six months served in the Bryan county jail.

Warden McLeod said Traxler had served out of trouble during the years he worked in Denton and had been an "excellent pris-

Grocerman Calls Bluff Of Bandit

SAN ANTONIO, June 10—UP—A bandit, who was 19 or 20, hauled a big revolver in W. W. Lafferty's grocery Friday and told Mrs. Naomi Scott, the cashier, to give him everything in the cash register.

Mrs. Scott, 41, started to obey, but Lafferty, who is 38, weighs 200 pounds and is six feet tall, belted: "Don't open that register!"

"Yes, let me open it," Mrs. Scott said.

"No," Lafferty replied. "I don't believe in that sort of thing." He stepped closer to the bandit and told him, "Shoot me. If you want to shoot somebody, you are not going to take my money. I work hard for it and I don't believe in giving it away."

The bandit pointed his pistol at Lafferty, and, after a moment of indecision, turned and ran.

BURMESE LEADER VISITS TITO—BELGRADE, June 10—UP—Burmese Premier U Nu and Yugoslav President Tito opened a series of official talks Friday.

Traxler plans to visit his mother at Chickasha, Okla., then go to Denton, McLeod said.

There are 100,000 people in the State, and approximately 100,000 people in the country. Considerable of an honor was accorded Capt. Louis Mockabee, director of the Salvation Army here, when his club, the North Monroe Lions, at the meeting this week, named him the outstanding man of the club. He received a handsome plaque bearing this recognition. Also the president of the club the past year, Lester Carr and his fellow officers, also received recognition for their efforts that have made the past year one that is outstanding in the history of the club.

Congressman Walter Rogers (D-Tex.) was enlarging upon the narrowness of Texas and especially of Amarillo, which is out in the Panhandle. He told such a big yarn that a hearer is reported to have inquired that if the city was so wonderful why had it not been made the capital of the state.

Then came the Rogers retort by way of explanation: "Texas is just too big," he said, "the Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo learned that a special committee was to meet to select a site for the capital, but before the members of the group could get across Texas to the meeting to enter Amarillo's bid, the building was already up and occupied down in Austin."

GM Plans Train To Compete With Airline Speeds

DETROIT, June 10.—General Motors announced today it was building a new high-speed train that would make many train runs just as fast as airplane trips and cheaper also.

The new train, now being constructed, will be ready for its first demonstration by late August. President Harlow H. Curtice said General Motors successfully had met all the requirements for a "new style" train which a committee of railroad presidents had asked for to help them pull passenger train service out of the red. At present such service is losing $700 million a year.

Curtice said the new train will whip along at sustained speeds of more than 100 miles per hour. At that speed, the train would complete some shorter runs — such as New York to Washington, Boston to New York, or Detroit to Chicago — just as fast, or faster, than airplane travel, when travel time to and from airport is added to the time of plane flights.

The costs of the new train, announced by Curtice, indicated it would be a much cheaper ride also. He said the new passenger cars would cost less than $1,000 a car. At present, modern train coaches cost about $2,000 a car.

Teen-Agers Get Blame For Blast At Red Embassy

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 10.—Three teen-agers were blamed Friday for planting a bomb that exploded behind the Soviet embassy here Thursday night shattering scores of windows in the downtown area.

"A teen-ager prank," was the verdict of Inspector Ake Hasselrot, chief of Stockholm's criminal police division, after studying the case.

The explosion did not crack any windows in the embassy, the police reported, but other windows in the area were blown out. No one was injured.

Corpus Christi Day Observed By Argentines

BUENOS AIRES, June 10.—UP—The interior ministry announced Friday that 287 Corpus Christi Day processions were held throughout Argentina Thursday. The announcement indicated that Roman Catholics in interior Argentina, including Rosario, the country's second largest city, did not follow the lead of those in Buenos Aires, who cancelled the traditional procession, rather than holding it on a regular working day. Corpus Christi was one of several religious holidays eliminated recently by the Peron government.

Woolson's Bills To Be Paid For By United States

WASHINGTON, June 10.—UP—Albert Woolson, last surviving veteran of the Union Army in the Civil War, need not worry about medical expenses any more. The Senate Friday passed and sent to the White House a bill to pay hospital expenses of the 108-year-old Dunith, Minn., veteran. The House passed the measure May 17. The legislation authorizes the Veterans Administration to pay Woolson's hospital and medical expenses at a hospital near his home. Sponsors said the nearest VA hospital is 165 miles away.

Catholic Bishop Expelled By Reds

HONG KONG, June 10.—UP—Red China Friday ousted American Catholic Bishop Frederick A. Donnelly, of Fall River, Mass., on charges of "subversive activities." Donnelly arrived at Kowloon, just outside the Bamboo Curtain and was greeted by a crowd of priests and nuns. He said he was told only three days ago that he was "guilty of subversive activities" and was to be expelled from China.

Wheat Crop Forecast Given

Benson Sets Wheat Price; Threats To 'Quotas' Seen

WASHINGTON, June 10.—UP—The Agriculture Department Friday set 1955 wheat price supports at $1.81 a bushel—76 per cent of the "fair" parity price and the lowest dollar support level since 1946.

The department said this average price guarantee is predicated on approval of strict marketing quotas in a national referendum June 25. If quotas are voted down, supports will drop to 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.9 a bushel. Earlier, the department forecast a 1955 wheat crop of 845,215,000 bushels, smallest in 12 years. The shrinking output is the result of a withering drought earlier this year and sharp acreage cutbacks under the price support program.

The department said the new support rate will not be lowered, but it will be raised if changes in parity values and the supply situation on July 1, 1956, calls for an increase.

The government is supporting 1955 wheat prices at $2.06 a bushel, or 82.12 per cent of parity. Parity is the price considered fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

The 1946 average support rate was $1.49 a bushel, which represented 90 per cent of parity at that time.

House Democratic Whip Carl Albert (Okla.) said the cut in the support level shows what will happen to growers of other basic crops under the administration's flexible farm price support program. He said farmers "couldn't live" with the administration's new wheat program.

Rep. Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan.), top GOP member of the House Agriculture committee, has raised the possibility that farmers may defeat wheat curbs in the June 25 election. Albert said it appears Benson is "trying to coax" farmers into doing exactly that.

The new support rates will be available in commercial wheat states for those who comply with their individual farm acreage allotments. Support rates in the 12 non-commercial wheat states are set at low as 75 per cent of the commercial rate.

Keating Begins Five-Day Term

NEW YORK, June 10.—UP—One of New York's most controversial crime fighters went to jail today.

Vincent Keating, former counsel to the city attorney, was committed to a five-day jail term because of his refusal to tell a grand jury where he obtained information about a Manhattan wire-tap scandal he made public.

The 425,000 mile network of natural gas transport lines are composed of underground pipes crisscrossing the United States.

Aussie Solons Vote Sentences For 2 Newsmen

CANBERRA, Australia, June 10.—UP—A reporter said Friday night he will appeal to the highest court in the British commonwealth if necessary against the prison sentences imposed upon him and his publisher by the House of Representatives.

In an unprecedented action the House convicted and sentenced Raymond Fitzpatrick and Frank Browne to three months imprisonment each on charges of trying to intimidate and silence a Labor member of Parliament.

They were accused of attacking the reputation of Rep. Charles Morgan in the Bankstown Observer, a four-page tabloid owned by Fitzpatrick and edited by Browne. Its circulation is about 11 million mostly near Morgan's district.

Prime Minister Robert C. Menzies demanded the prison sentence after announcing the privileges committee had found the two men committed "a serious breach" of the House's privileges.

The Liberal-dominated House overrode a Labor proposal that the punishment be limited to fines and affirmed the sentences by a vote of 55 to 12. Morgan asked for fines only.

Browne, 53, made a dramatic appeal before the House that he be tried by a properly constituted court with legal representation. He charged Menzies "stage-managed" the procedure to "make me grovel for mercy." He refused to apologize. But Fitzpatrick, 55, quietly apologized to the House.

Authorities said a writ may be issued Saturday to test Parliament's authority to impose sentence without a judicial inquiry. Browne said he would appeal to the privy council, the highest court in the British commonwealth, if necessary.

Baton Rouge Boy Gets Polio After Taking Vaccine

BATON ROUGE, June 10.—UP—The Baton Rouge city-parish health unit said today an eight-year-old boy, inoculated five weeks ago with the first shot of Salk polio vaccine, has developed nonparalytic polio.

The boy was not identified. But doctors said, "this seems to be one case where polio has developed not because of, but in spite of the Salk vaccine."

They said the boy had been clinically diagnosed as having polio, but final laboratory reports were not complete. It is the first case of polio to develop among the 6,941 East Baton Rouge Parish first and second graders given the Salk vaccine.

Meanwhile there was some doubt as to when the second shots would be given. But indications were the school children would be given the next shot.

It looks as though the shot is going to be given here, said Dr. Joseph Sabatier Jr., president of the East Baton Rouge Parish Medical Society last night. "No thumbs down has been turned on it yet."

Sabatier said that "unless something unexpected turns up" in further information, the shots probably would be administered here soon. But he set no date.

$15 Collected To Aid Unfortunate Widow

Only $15 had been received yesterday toward $150 needed by Mrs. Charlie Perot of West Monroe to pay for removal of her home from the wrong lot.

The public was asked to help Mrs. Perot, a widow whose only income is a small welfare check, after removal of the house was required by the owner of the lot. Mrs. Perot is responsible for the support of herself and an 11-year-old daughter.

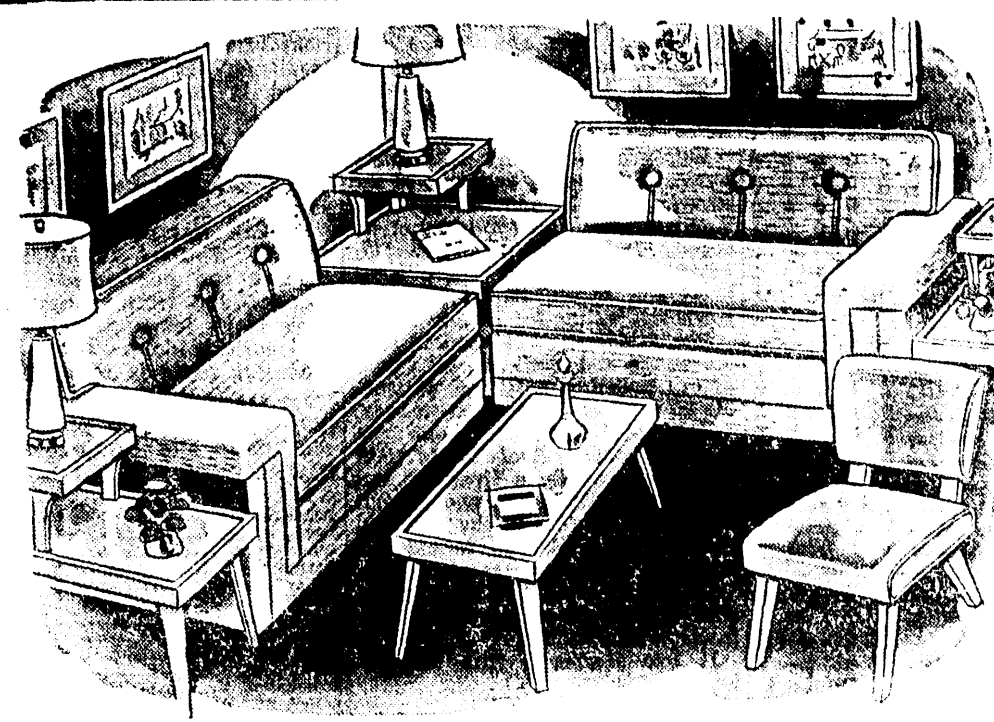

Forger Surrenders

ATLANTA, June 10.—UP—John B. B. walked into the sheriff's office Friday and admitted he was a check forger, saying that his conscience had not so badly troubled him as he had thought it would.

A check with Gadsden, Ala., authorities disclosed that Busby was wanted for bad checks there so he was accommodated with a cell.

West Monroe's Legion Whips Rayville, 13 To 8

The West Monroe American Legion Juniors, using four hurlers and a four-run fifth inning, overcame a 6-5 Rayville lead and won their fifth consecutive game yesterday afternoon at the playgrounds, 13-8.

Rudy Ramsey and Jackie Norman were the first two One-Norms to pitch. Ramsey, who gave up a total of six runs, Wayne Hendricks came on in the fifth to gain credit for the win, and was relieved in the top of the eighth when he and first-sacker L. C. Crawford switched posts. The final two Rayville runs came in the eighth off Crawford, when they scored two hits and an error.

Richard Harris, George Smith, Richard Watson, and Hendricks all had two hits apiece for the winners, and Norman smashed a triple in his lone appearance. One of Hendricks' blows was also a run-producing triple in the eighth.

For the visitors, second baseman Billy Pirtle led their plate attack, with three hits in three official trips.

Orioles Shut Out Athletics On 8 Hits By 3-0 Count

KANSAS CITY, June 10 (AP)—Big Jim Wilson and Ray Moore combined on 8-hit pitching job to shut out the Baltimore Orioles, whitewashed the Kansas City Athletics, 3-0.

Wilson, who won his fifth game against five losses, departed in the seventh when his mound opponent, Ray Moore, doubled to put men on second and third with two out.

After walking pinch hitter Enos Slaughter, Moore struck out Dick Kraychok, hitting for Hector Lopez. The Athletics threatened in both the eighth and ninth but each time Moore pulled himself out of trouble after allowing two men on base.

Baltimore scored a single run in the fourth on Hoot Evers' walk and singles by Gene Woodling and Hal Smith. That was enough but they scored again in the sixth on Woodling's double, an infield out and Luis Tiant's sacrifice fly.

Tiant drove in Cal Abrams with another sacrifice fly, a 415-footer, in the eighth.

It was Herbert's fifth straight loss.

North Trounces South, 49 To 42, In Cage Classic

SHREVEPORT, La., June 10 (AP)—The North team snapped a three-game losing streak and registered its first victory in the annual Louisiana prep basketball all-star game tonight with a 49-42 triumph over the South.

Raymond Germany, six-foot, five-inch center from Holly Ridge, scored 15 points to pace the North squad and won the title of "Mr. Basketball of Louisiana for 1953."

The North team held a 15-11 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the South moved into a 21-21 tie at halftime. With Germany showing the way, the North took a commanding 36-28 edge at the end of the third quarter and battled the South on even teams during the final quarter.

Karl Vogt of Nichols High in New Orleans was high man for the South with 14 points.

Cleve Strong of Minden coached the North team while John Nicolson of Lake Charles guided the South squad.

Young Floridian Golfer Ahead In Paris Tournament

PARIS, June 10 (AP)—Young Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., outlasted three American Walker Cup stars in the French Amateur Golf Championship today and will bid for his first major national title tomorrow against France's title-collecting Henri De Lamaze.

Bisplinghoff, a big 20-year-old student at the University of Florida, reached the finals at the expense of Bill Campbell, the American Walker Cup team captain, 3 and 1.

De Lamaze, five-times winner of the French Amateur and champion at various times of three other European nations, turned back Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., 4 and 3.

Conrad, winner of the British Amateur Championship last week, eliminated a third American Walker Cup player, Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., 3 and 2, in the quarter-finals this morning.

Bisplinghoff, who decided to make an overseas tour after beating Campbell in the finals of the South and South American at Pinehurst, N. C., last spring, was the last survivor of more than a dozen Americans who started the tournament three days ago. Four went out today, in addition to the three Walker Cup players, L. Jim Gray, Jacksonville, Fla., got into the last eight, only to take a 9 and 8 drubbing from De Lamaze.

In the other quarter-final matches, Bisplinghoff turned back Ken Thom, former British Walker Cupper, 3 and 2, and Campbell edged out England's Arthur Perowne, a semi-finalist in the British Amateur, 1 up.

Bisplinghoff is a tall, bulky youngster—6 feet 2 and 210 pounds—who has been regarded as a promising young player in the United States for several years. Although he wasn't known in Britain or Europe, he qualified for the U. S. Open when he was 16 and won the U. S. Junior title at 17.

In 1952, he has won the Florida Amateur three times, but his most important victory so far was in the North and South. He won the title in August, won the French Amateur four times from 1947 to 1950 and again last year, the French native amateur six times and the open amateur championships of Belgium, Portugal and Spain.

The Clearwater stable's Perowne is expected to be a solid second choice in the morning at around 10-1, with De Lamaze at 1-1. N. C. who ended his Pine Bluff track record in October, 1952, probably will be 10-1 or even better.

Others in the field who are some real contenders to the title have been following the triple crown classes, and are expected to be withdrawn, however, before they have to pay up the $1,000 starting fee tomorrow.

That came announcement that Johnnie, the dark horse of the race, had suddenly been sold and would start in the skills of Eugene Hankehead, sister of actress Tallulah Bankhead. Johnnie was bred and owned by Lady Hankehead, an American living in France, and the deal was closed by the Atlanta telephone. No price was announced.

The Clearwater stable's Perowne is expected to be a solid second choice in the morning at around 10-1, with De Lamaze at 1-1. N. C. who ended his Pine Bluff track record in October, 1952, probably will be 10-1 or even better.

Giardello Draws Prison Sentence In Assault Case

PHILADELPHIA, June 10 (AP)—Joey Giardello, high-ranking middleweight fighter, today was sentenced to a county prison term of 6 to 18 months as the aftermath of a street corner row in which he was accused of beating a service station attendant with a crutch.

Judge Edward P. Little, who presided at Giardello's recent trial, admitted the boxer to $1,500 bond pending an appeal which Giardello's attorney, Michael Von Moschick, said he would file with the Pennsylvania superior court.

Giardello was convicted last March 18 on five counts of assault and riot. He was accused specifically of taking part in the beating of attendant Howard Short, 29, at a south Philadelphia gas station on Oct. 29, 1952.

During the 24-year-old fighter's trial it was testified he hit Short with a crutch which Giardello was using at the time because of an auto accident leg injury.

Three companions pleaded guilty to two charges of riot and two of the three pleaded guilty to an additional count of assault and battery.

Victor Mariani, 24, and Joseph Bonadies, also 24, admitted both the riot and assault charges, while Pasquale Concilio, 22, denied the assault portion of the indictment.

Giardello's real name is Carmine Telleo. The service station row allegedly started when Giardello and three companions drove in for some gasoline and an argument started over remarks exchanged by the fighter and Short. The prosecution charged that Giardello drove off, then returned to attack Short and damage the service station office.

Giardello is a tall, bulky youngster—6 feet 2 and 210 pounds—who has been regarded as a promising young player in the United States for several years. Although he wasn't known in Britain or Europe, he qualified for the U. S. Open when he was 16 and won the U. S. Junior title at 17.
